Monroe Township Police Arrest Suspect in Residential Burglary

MONROE TOWNSHIP, N.J. — The Monroe Township Police Department has arrested a Trenton man in connection with a residential burglary that occurred on Nov. 10 within the township.

Officers responded to a residence in Dynasty Estates at approximately 5:15 p.m. after the homeowners reported a shattered rear sliding glass door and several second-floor bedrooms that had been ransacked. Numerous items were reported stolen, including jewelry and electronic devices.

During a canvass of the neighborhood, officers obtained multiple surveillance videos showing a dark-colored SUV in the area during the timeframe of the burglary. Investigators noted several unique characteristics of the vehicle, including a broken driver's side taillight and mismatched passenger-side wheels. Automated license plate recognition data later linked the vehicle to the Trenton area.

On Nov. 12, Monroe Township detectives located the vehicle in Trenton. Detectives conducted a motor vehicle stop after observing the SUV leaving a parking lot on West Hanover Street. The driver, identified as Fausto Peralta, 25, had multiple active warrants.

While Peralta attempted to retrieve paperwork from the vehicle, the glovebox dropped open, revealing two large bags of jewelry, a ski mask and gloves. Detectives obtained Peralta's consent to search the vehicle and recovered additional items confirmed to have been stolen from the involved residence, including gaming devices, watches and loose jewelry.

Peralta was placed under arrest and transported to Monroe Township Police Headquarters, where he was charged with:

- Burglary (second degree)
- Money laundering (third degree)
- Receiving stolen property (third degree)

Peralta was lodged at the Middlesex County Adult Correction Center. This investigation remains active, as detectives are working to link proceeds recovered to additional burglaries. Anyone with information is asked to contact Detective McCann at 732-521-0222.
